Mr. NELSON of Florida. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the text of these four bills, the Commission on Catastrophic Disaster Risk and Insurance Act of 2006, the Catastrophe Savings Accounts Act of 2006, the Policyholder Disaster Protection Act of 2006, and the Homeowners Protection Act of 2006, be printed in the RECORD.

There being no objection, the text of the bills was ordered to be printed in the RECORD, as follows:

S. 3114

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

This Act may be cited as the "Commission on Catastrophic Disaster Risk and Insurance Act of 2006".

SEC. 2. FINDINGS.

Congress finds the following:

(1) Hurricanes Katrina, Rita, and Wilma, which struck the United States in 2005, caused over $200 billion in total economic losses, including insured and uninsured losses.

(2) Although private sector insurance is currently available to spread some catastrophe-related losses throughout the Nation and internationally, most experts believe there will be significant insurance and reinsurance shortages, resulting in dramatic rate increases for consumers and businesses, and the unavailability of catastrophe insurance.

(3) The Federal Government has provided and will continue to provide billions of dollars and resources to pay for losses from catastrophes, including hurricanes, volcanic eruptions, tsunamis, tornados, and other disasters, at huge costs to American taxpayers.

(4) The Federal Government has a critical interest in ensuring appropriate and fiscally responsible risk management of catastrophes. Mortgages require reliable property insurance, and the unavailability of reliable property insurance would make most real estate transactions impossible. In addition, the public health, safety, and welfare demand that structures damaged or destroyed in a catastrophe be reconstructed as soon as possible. Therefore, the inability of the private sector insurance and reinsurance markets to maintain sufficient capacity to enable Americans to obtain property insurance coverage in the private sector endangers the national economy and the public health, safety, and welfare.

(5) Multiple proposals have been introduced in the United States Congress over the past decade to address catastrophic risk insurance, including the creation of a national catastrophic reinsurance fund and the revision of the Federal tax code to allow insurers to use tax-deferred catastrophe funds, yet Congress has failed to act on any of these proposals.

(6) To the extent the United States faces high risks from catastrophe exposure, essential technical information on financial structures and innovations in the catastrophe insurance market is needed.

(7) The most efficient and effective approach to assessing the catastrophe insurance problem in the public policy context is to establish a bipartisan commission of experts to study the management of catastrophic disaster risk, and to require such commission to timely report its recommendations to Congress so that Congress can quickly craft a solution to protect the American people.

SEC. 3. ESTABLISHMENT.

Ms. LANDRIEU. Mr. President, one of the most frequent complaints I have been hearing from people in Louisiana whose homes sustained damage in Katrina and Rita has been about their property insurance. First, it took insurance companies a long time to get adjusters into the area after the storm and many people are still waiting for claim payments. This was followed by the shock for many of our homeowners that their property insurance policies covered wind damage, but not flood damage. They could get the roof replaced, but the rest of the house was lost. Many of them were not required to have flood insurance because they either did not live in a flood plain or did not have a mortgage. And now we are beginning to discover that many insurance companies are no longer writing policies in Louisiana.

Our homeowners weathered one, and in some cases two, hurricanes already. However, now it's as if our homeowners have been hit by another hurricane—one causing a flood of red ink, lost homes, ruined lives, and broken communities.

I hope we never see another storm like Katrina. I would not want any of my colleagues' states to face the one-two punch of two hurricanes the way Louisiana was. But hurricane season is coming again, starting next week on June 1. These insurance issues and problems are going to come again. We can rebuild levees and use the lessons of Katrina to better prepare for these storms, but finding a solution to this insurance issue is much harder.

First of all, insurance is regulated at the State level. We do not control it up here. In all fairness, property casualty insurance companies do not cover flood damage because that is covered by the National Flood Insurance Program at FEMA. But the potential for flooding from hurricanes still remains and our insurance system is not ready to handle the amount of uninsured damage a massive storm like Katrina.

I am pleased to join my colleague from Florida, Senator NELSON, as a cosponsor of the Commission on Catastrophic Disaster Risk and Insurance Act of 2006. This bill will not produce major changes in the insurance industry overnight, but it will begin to take a look at this issue to identify the best solution to ensuring that home and business owners will have insurance coverage to help them rebuild after catastrophic natural disasters.

The commission established by this legislation will take the first steps for assessing the casualty insurance market and recommend any necessary legislative changes to ensure that consumers will have readily available and affordable insurance coverage to protect them from natural disasters. Experts from a wide variety of fields in disaster preparedness, construction engineering, the insurance industry, and government will serve on the commission. While the members will be chosen on a bipartisan basis, they will be taking a nonpartisan approach to this subject.

I urge my colleagues to support this legislation. It is a first step—a modest step—toward ensuring the financial security of Americans in the face of catastrophic disasters.

By Mr. NELSON of Florida:

By Mr. NELSON of Florida:

S. 3116. A bill to amend the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 to provide for the creation of disaster protection funds by property and casualty insurance companies for the payment of policyholders' claims arising from future catastrophic events; to the Committee on Finance.

S. 3116

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

This Act may be cited as the “Policyholder Disaster Protection Act of 2006”.

SEC. 2. FINDINGS.

The Congress makes the following findings:

(1) Rising costs resulting from natural disasters are placing an increasing strain on the ability of property and casualty insurance companies to assure payment of homeowners' claims and other insurance claims arising from major natural disasters now and in the future.

(2) Present tax laws do not provide adequate incentives to assure that natural disaster insurance is provided or, where such insurance is provided, that funds are available for payment of insurance claims in the event of future catastrophic losses from major natural disasters, as present law requires an insurer wishing to accumulate surplus assets for this purpose to do so entirely from its after-tax retained earnings.

(3) Revising the tax laws applicable to the property and casualty insurance industry to permit carefully controlled accumulation of pretax dollars in separate reserve funds devoted solely to the payment of claims arising from future major natural disasters will provide incentives for property and casualty insurers to make natural disaster insurance available, will give greater protection to the Nation's homeowners, small businesses, and other insurance consumers, and will help assure the future financial health of the Nation's insurance system as a whole.

(4) Implementing these changes will reduce the possibility that a significant portion of the private insurance system would fail in the wake of a major natural disaster and that governmental entities would be required to step in to provide relief at taxpayer expense.

(a) CONTRIBUTIONS TO POLICYHOLDER DISASTER PROTECTION FUNDS.—Subsection (c) of section 832 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 (relating to the taxable income of insurance companies other than life insurance companies) is amended by striking “and” at the end of paragraph (12), by striking the period at the end of paragraph (13) and inserting “; and”, and by adding at the end the following new paragraph:

“(14) the qualified contributions to a policyholder disaster protection fund during the taxable year.”.

“(F) the amount of any distributions from a policyholder disaster protection fund during the taxable year, except that a distribution made to return to the qualified insurance company any contribution which is not a qualified contribution (as defined in subsection (h)) for a taxable year shall not be included in gross income if such distribution is made prior to the filing of the tax return for such taxable year.”.

By Mr. NELSON of Florida:

S. 3117. A bill to establish a program to provide more protection at lower cost through a national backstop for State natural catastrophe insurance programs to help the United States better prepare for and protect its citizens against the ravages of natural catastrophes, to encourage and promote mitigation and prevention for, and recovery and rebuilding from such catastrophes, to better assist in the financial recovery and rebuilding from such catastrophes, and to develop a rigorous process of continuous improvement; to the Commitment on Banking, Housing, and Urban Affairs.

S. 3117

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE; TABLE OF CONTENTS.

(a) SHORT TITLE.—This Act may be cited as the “Homeowners Protection Act of 2006”.

(b) TABLE OF CONTENTS.—The table of contents for this Act is as follows:

- Sec. 1. Short title; table of contents.
- Sec. 2. Congressional findings.
- Sec. 3. National Commission on Catastrophe Preparation and Protection.
- Sec. 4. Program authority.
- Sec. 5. Qualified lines of coverage.
- Sec. 6. Covered perils.
- Sec. 7. Contracts for reinsurance coverage for eligible State programs.
- Sec. 8. Minimum level of retained losses and maximum Federal liability.
- Sec. 9. Consumer Hurricane, Earthquake, Loss Protection (HELP) Fund.
- Sec. 10. Regulations.
- Sec. 11. Termination.
- Sec. 12. Annual study concerning benefits of the Act.
- Sec. 13. GAO study of the National Flood Insurance Program and hurricane-related flooding.
- Sec. 14. Definitions.

SEC. 2. FINDINGS.

Congress finds that—

(1) America needs to take steps to be better prepared for and better protected from catastrophes;

(2) the hurricane seasons of 2004 and 2005 are startling reminders of both the human and economic devastation that hurricanes, flooding, and other natural disasters can cause;

(3) if a repeat of the deadly 1900 Galveston hurricane occurred again it could cause thousands of deaths and over $36,000,000,000 in loss;

(4) if the 1906 San Francisco earthquake occurred again it could cause thousands of deaths, displace millions of residents, destroy thousands of businesses, and cause over $400,000,000,000 in loss;

(5) if a Category 5 hurricane were to hit Miami it could cause thousands of deaths and over $50,000,000,000 in loss and devastate the local and national economy;

(6) if a repeat of the 1938 "Long Island Express" were to occur again it could cause thousands of deaths and over $30,000,000,000 in damage, and if a hurricane that strong were to directly hit Manhattan it could cause over $150,000,000,000 in damage and cause irreparable harm to our Nation's economy;

(7) a more comprehensive and integrated approach to dealing with catastrophes is needed;

(8) using history as a guide, natural catastrophes will inevitably place a tremendous strain on homeowners' insurance markets in many areas, will raise costs for consumers, and will jeopardize the ability of many consumers to adequately insure their homes and possessions;

(9) the lack of sufficient insurance capacity and the inability of private insurers to build enough capital, in a short amount of time, threatens to increase the number of uninsured homeowners, which, in turn, increases the risk of mortgage defaults and the strain on the Nation's banking system;

(10) some States have exercised leadership through reasonable action to ensure the continued availability and affordability of homeowners' insurance for all residents;

(11) it is appropriate that efforts to improve insurance availability be designed and implemented at the State level;

(12) while State insurance programs may be adequate to cover losses from most natural disasters, a small percentage of events is likely to exceed the financial capacity of these programs and the local insurance markets;

(13) a limited national insurance backstop will improve the effectiveness of State insurance programs and private insurance markets and will increase the likelihood that homeowners' insurance claims will be fully paid in the event of a large natural catastrophe and that routine claims that occur after a mega-catastrophe will also continue to be paid;

(14) it is necessary to provide a national insurance backstop program that will provide more protection at an overall lower cost and that will promote stability in the homeowners' insurance market;

(15) it is the proper role of the Federal Government to prepare for and protect its citizens from catastrophes and to facilitate consumer protection, victim assistance, and recovery, including financial recovery; and

(16) any Federal reinsurance program must be founded upon sound actuarial principles and priced in a manner that encourages the creation of State funds and maximizes the buying potential of these State funds and encourages and promotes prevention and mitigation, recovery and rebuilding, and consumer education, and emphasizes continuous analysis and improvement.

SEC. 7. CONTRACTS FOR REINSURANCE COVERAGE FOR ELIGIBLE STATE PROGRAMS.

(a) ELIGIBLE STATE PROGRAMS.—A program shall be eligible to purchase a contract under this section for reinsurance coverage under this Act only if the State entity authorized to make such determinations certifies to the Secretary that the program complies with the following requirements:

(1) PROGRAM DESIGN.—The program shall be a State-operated—

(A) insurance program that—

(i) offers coverage for—

(I) homes (which may include dwellings owned under condominium and cooperative ownership arrangements); and

(A) IN GENERAL.—The program shall meet the following requirements:

(i) A majority of the members of the governing body of the program shall be public officials.

(ii) The State shall have a financial interest in the program, which shall not include a program authorized by State law or regulation that requires insurers to pool resources to provide property insurance coverage for covered perils.

(7) REQUIREMENTS REGARDING COVERAGE.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—The program—

(i) may not, except for charges or assessments related to post-event financing or bonding, involve cross-subsidization between any separate property and casualty lines covered under the program unless the elimination of such activity in an existing program would negatively impact the eligibility of the program to purchase a contract for re-

insurance coverage under this Act pursuant to paragraph (3);

(ii) shall include provisions that authorize the State insurance commissioner or other State entity authorized to make such a determination to terminate the program if the insurance commissioner or other such entity determines that the program is no longer necessary to ensure the availability of homeowners' insurance for all residents of the State; and

(iii) shall provide that, for any insurance coverage for homes (which may include dwellings owned under condominium and cooperative ownership arrangements) and the contents of apartments that is made available under the State insurance program and for any reinsurance coverage for such insurance coverage made available under the State reinsurance program, the premium rates charged shall be amounts that, at a minimum, are sufficient to cover the full actuarial costs of such coverage, based on consideration of the risks involved and accepted actuarial and rate making principles, anticipated administrative expenses, and loss and loss-adjustment expenses.

(B) APPLICABILITY.—This paragraph shall apply—

(i) before the expiration of the 2-year period beginning on the date of the enactment of this Act, only to State programs which, after January 1, 2007, commence offering insurance or reinsurance coverage described in subparagraph (A) or (B), respectively, of paragraph (1); and

(2) PAYMENT CONDITION.—The contract shall authorize claims payments for eligible losses only to the eligible State program purchasing the coverage.

(3) RETAINED LOSSES REQUIREMENT.—For each event of a covered peril, the contract shall make a payment for the event only if the total amount of insurance claims for losses, which are covered by qualified lines, occur to properties located within the State covered by the contract, and that result from events, exceeds the amount of retained losses provided under the contract (pursuant to section 8(a)) purchased by the eligible State program.

(4) MULTIPLE EVENTS.—The contract shall—
(A) cover any eligible losses from 1 or more covered events that may occur during the term of the contract; and

(II) takes into consideration empirical models of natural disasters and the capacity of private markets to absorb insured losses from natural disasters.

(iii) SELF-SUFFICIENCY.—The rates for reinsurance coverage shall be established at a level that annually produces expected premiums that shall be sufficient to pay the expected annualized cost of all claims, loss adjustment expenses, and all administrative costs of reinsurance coverage offered under this section.

(B) COMPONENTS.—The price shall consist of the following components:

(i) RISK-BASED PRICE.—A risk-based price, which shall reflect the anticipated annualized payout of the contract according to the actuarial analysis and recommendations of the Commission.

(8) ADDITIONAL CONTRACT OPTION.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—The contract shall provide that the purchaser of the contract may, during a term of such original contract, purchase additional contracts from among those offered by the Secretary at the beginning of the term, subject to the limitations under section 8, at the prices at which such contracts were offered at the beginning of the term, prorated based upon the remaining term as determined by the Secretary.

(B) TIMING.—An additional contract purchased under subparagraph (A) shall provide coverage beginning on a date 15 days after the date of purchase but shall not provide coverage for losses for an event that has already occurred.

(9) OTHERS.—The contract shall contain such other terms as the Secretary considers necessary—

SEC. 8. MINIMUM LEVEL OF RETAINED LOSSES AND MAXIMUM FEDERAL LIABILITY.

(a) AVAILABLE LEVELS OF RETAINED LOSSES.—In making reinsurance coverage available under this Act, the Secretary shall make available for purchase contracts for such coverage that require the sustainment of retained losses from covered perils (as required under section 7(b)(3) for payment of eligible losses) in various amounts, as the Secretary, in consultation with the Commission, determines appropriate and subject to the requirements under subsection (b).

(b) MINIMUM LEVEL OF RETAINED LOSSES.—

(1) CONTRACTS FOR STATE PROGRAMS.—Subject to paragraphs (3) and (4) and notwithstanding any other provision of this Act, a contract for reinsurance coverage under section 7 for an eligible State program that offers insurance or reinsurance coverage described in subparagraph (A) or (B), respectively, of section 7(a)(1), may not be made available or sold unless the contract requires retained losses from covered perils in the following amount:

(A) IN GENERAL.—The State program shall sustain an amount of retained losses of not less than—

(i) the claims-paying capacity of the eligible State program, as determined by the Secretary; and

(ii) an amount, determined by the Secretary in consultation with the Commission, that is the amount equal to the eligible losses projected to be incurred at least once every 50 years on an annual basis from covered perils.

(B) TRANSITION RULE FOR EXISTING PROGRAMS.—

(i) CLAIMS-PAYING CAPACITY.—Subject to clause (ii), in the case of any eligible State program that was offering insurance or reinsurance coverage on the date of the enactment of this Act and the claims-paying capacity of which is greater than the amount determined under subparagraph (A)(i) but less than an amount determined for the program under subparagraph (A)(ii), the minimum level of retained losses applicable under this paragraph shall be the claims-paying capacity of such State program.

(ii) AGREEMENT.—

(I) IN GENERAL.—Clause (i) shall apply to a State program only if the program enters into a written agreement with the Secretary providing a schedule for increasing the claims-paying capacity of the program to the amount determined for the program under subparagraph (A)(ii) over a period not to exceed 5 years.

(II) EXTENSION.—The Secretary may extend the 5-year period under subclause (I) for not more than 5 additional 1-year periods if the Secretary determines that losses incurred by the State program as a result of covered perils create excessive hardship on the State program.

(III) CONSULTATION.—The Secretary shall consult with the appropriate officials of the State program regarding the required schedule and any potential 1-year extensions.

(C) TRANSITION RULE FOR NEW PROGRAMS.—

(i) 50-YEAR EVENT.—The Secretary may provide that, in the case of an eligible State program that, after January 1, 2007, commences offering insurance or reinsurance coverage, during the 7-year period beginning on the date that reinsurance coverage under section 7 is first made available, the minimum level of retained losses applicable under this paragraph shall be the amount determined for the State under subparagraph (A)(i), except that such minimum level shall be adjusted annually as provided in clause (ii) of this subparagraph.

(ii) ANNUAL ADJUSTMENT.—Each annual adjustment under this clause shall increase the minimum level of retained losses applicable under this subparagraph to an eligible State program described in clause (i) in a manner such that—

(I) during the course of such 7-year period, the applicable minimum level of retained losses approaches the minimum level that, under subparagraph (A)(ii), will apply to the eligible State program upon the expiration of such period; and

(II) each such annual increase is a substantially similar amount, to the extent practicable.

(D) REDUCTION BECAUSE OF REDUCED CLAIMS-PAYING CAPACITY.—

(i) AUTHORITY.—Notwithstanding subparagraphs (A), (B), and (C) or the terms contained in a contract for reinsurance pursuant to such subparagraphs, if the Secretary determines that the claims-paying capacity of an eligible State program has been reduced because of payment for losses due to an event, the Secretary may reduce the minimum level of retained losses.

(ii) TERM OF REDUCTION.—

(I) EXTENSION.—The Secretary may extend the 5-year period for not more than 5 additional 1-year periods if the Secretary determines that losses incurred by the State program as a result of covered perils create excessive hardship on the State program.

(II) CONSULTATION.—The Secretary shall consult with the appropriate officials of the State program regarding the required schedule and any potential 1-year extensions.

(E) CLAIMS-PAYING CAPACITY.—For purposes of this paragraph, the claims-paying capacity of a State-operated insurance or reinsurance program under section 7(a)(1) shall be determined by the Secretary, in consultation with the Commission, taking into consideration the claims-paying capacity as determined by the State program, retained losses to private insurers in the State in an amount assigned by the State insurance commissioner, the cash surplus of the program, and the lines of credit, reinsurance, and other financing mechanisms of the program established by law.

(c) MAXIMUM FEDERAL LIABILITY.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the Secretary may sell only contracts for reinsurance coverage under this Act in various amounts that comply with the following requirements:

(A) ESTIMATE OF AGGREGATE LIABILITY.—The aggregate liability for payment of claims under all such contracts in any single year is unlikely to exceed $200,000,000,000 (as such amount is adjusted under paragraph (2)).

(B) ELIGIBLE LOSS COVERAGE SOLD.—Eligible losses covered by all contracts sold within a State during a 12-month period do not exceed the difference between the following amounts (each of which shall be determined by the Secretary in consultation with the Commission):

(i) The amount equal to the eligible loss projected to be incurred once every 500 years from a single event in the State.

(ii) The amount equal to the eligible loss projected to be incurred once every 50 years from a single event in the State.

(2) ANNUAL ADJUSTMENTS.—The Secretary shall annually adjust the amount under paragraph (1)(A) (as it may have been previously adjusted) to provide for inflation in accordance with an inflation index that the Secretary determines to be appropriate.

(d) LIMITATION ON PERCENTAGE OF RISK IN EXCESS OF RETAINED LOSSES.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary may not make available for purchase contracts for reinsurance coverage under this Act that would pay out more than 100 percent of eligible losses in excess of retained losses in the case of a contract under section 7 for an eligible State program, for such State.

(2) PAYOUT.—For purposes of this subsection, the amount of payout from a reinsurance contract shall be the amount of eligible losses in excess of retained losses multiplied by the percentage under paragraph (1).

SEC. 9. CONSUMER HURRICANE, EARTHQUAKE, LOSS PROTECTION (HELP) FUND.

(B) shall purchase any such obligations issued.

(2) PUBLIC DEBT TRANSACTION.—For the purpose of purchasing any such obligations under paragraph (1)—

(b) EXTENSION.—If upon the expiration of the period under subsection (a) the Secretary, in consultation with the Commission, determines that continuation of the program for reinsurance coverage under this Act is necessary or appropriate to carry out the purpose of this Act under section 4(b) because of insufficient growth of capacity in the private homeowners' insurance market, the Secretary shall continue to provide reinsurance coverage under this Act until the expiration of the 5-year period beginning upon the expiration of the period under subsection (a).

(c) REPEAL.—Effective upon the date that reinsurance coverage under this Act is no longer available or in force pursuant to subsection (a) or (b), this Act (except for this section) is repealed.

By Ms. SNOWE (for herself and Mr. CRAIG):

S. 3122. A bill to amend the Small Business Act to improve loans for members of the Guard and Reserve, and for other purposes; to the Committee on Small Business and Entrepreneurship.

Ms. SNOWE. Mr. President, our country has forever prided itself on providing individuals the opportunity to pursue a fair and prosperous existence. Our Nation's free markets enable small business owners to grow their enterprise and realize their dreams. Yet, small business owners and entrepreneurs are not blind to the costs of maintaining a free and open society. These same small business owners and entrepreneurs play a vital role in protecting freedom, at home and abroad, as members of the U.S. National Guard and Reserve Forces.

In recent years, however, the Department of Defense, DOD, has placed greater reliance on our nation's Guard and Reserve forces. In fact, since September 2001, over 550,000 Guard and Reserve members have been called up in support of current operations, at the same time, making up nearly one-third of deployed service members in Iraq and Afghanistan. In addition, Guard and Reserve members have been charged in assisting with recovery efforts in the Gulf Coast, following some of the most devastating natural disasters in our country's history.

As these brave men and women are called to serve our Nation, the small businesses they temporarily leave behind often suffer. Many affected small businesses experience slowing production and lost sales or incur additional expenses to compensate for an employee's absence. As a result, self-employed Guard and Reserve members and small businesses that employ Guard and Reserve members are “paying” a disproportionate and unfair share of the burden of increased call-ups. This is particularly troubling, because according to the majority of non-government-employed Guard and Reserve members are either self-employed or work for small businesses.

To help stem the ill affects of Guard and Reserve call-ups on small businesses, Senator CRAIG and I are introducing the Patriot Loan Act of 2006. This legislation improves the U.S. Small Business Administration's Military Reservist Economic Injury Disaster Loan, MREIDL, program. The MREIDL program was created to provide funds to eligible small businesses to meet ordinary and necessary operating expenses that the business cannot meet, because an essential employee was “called-up” to active duty in their role as a military reservist.

Specifically, our legislation would raise the maximum military reservist loan amount from $1,500,000 to $2,000,000. A maximum military reservist loan amount of $2,000,000 is the same level as many of the SBA's other loan programs, including: the 7(a) loans, international trade loans, and 504 Certified Development Corporation loans that serve a public policy goal.

This bill would allow the SBA Administrator, either directly or through banks to offer loans up to $25,000 without requiring collateral for a loan applicant. Currently, the BA offers military reservist loans up to $5,000 without requiring collateral. This provision would increase that level to eligible small businesses.

The bill would also require the Administrator to give military reservist loan applications priority for processing and ensure that Guard and Reserve members are adequately assisted with their loan application by incorporating the support and expertise of SBA entrepreneurial development partners, such as Small Business Development Centers.

Finally, the legislation requires the SBA and DOD to develop a joint website and printed materials providing information regarding the MREIDL program for Guard and Reserve members, and that the SBA and DOD jointly conduct a feasibility study on introducing business mobilization and interruption insurance for members of the Guard and Reserve forces, and increased utilization of credit unions affiliated with the DOD.

I thank Senator CRAIG for working with me to help address this critical issue and I urge my colleagues to support this bill.

By Mr. BINGAMAN (for himself and Mr. LUGAR):

S. 3171. A bill to establish the Department of Commerce an Under Secretary for United States Direct Investment, and for other purposes.

Mr. BINGAMAN. Mr. President, I rise today to introduce “The United States Direct Investment Act of 2006” with my colleague from Indiana, Senator LUGAR. This legislation is a necessary step towards making our country more competitive in encouraging multinational businesses to expand or open new offices, facilities or plants in the United States instead of in another country. While the United States continues to be the premier place in the world to locate a business, we can no longer rely on our inherent advantages alone. This legislation will refocus the Administrations efforts so that we do a better job of reaching out to businesses around the world and convince them that they should expand their current operations or open new facility in the United States instead of somewhere else overseas.

Our legislation creates the United States Direct Investment Administration, USDIA, the Commerce Department to be lead by an Under Secretary. This new administration shall be responsible for collecting and analyzing data related to foreign direct investment flows. They shall create an annual Investment Report and an annual Direct Investment Agenda to be reported and sent to Congress. They will then assume responsibility as the lead agency for advocating and implementing strategic policies to encourage more investment in the United States from abroad. This new administration will manage an investment zone program for communities that have been negatively impacted by trade but want to attract international companies to locate in their area. Finally, this new administration will be empowered to create ten new “renewal communities” as currently defined under the Internal Revenue Code.

Many countries, particularly those in Europe, have committed significant resources and energy to recruiting foreign direct investment. In many cases, they have offices in the United States where they meet with U.S. companies to encourage them to consider their country for their next expansion. Right now our country does not have any comparable operation. We leave these efforts to our states, region and cities through economic development agencies and offices. Unlike other countries, we don't provide a Federal umbrella organization to help these people recruit more effectively. Because of their limited resources, this means that many of these economic development agencies are unable to effectively target potential businesses that might be an ideal fit for their city or State. In some cases, these areas may be going through an economic downturn due to the closing of a plant or factory making their limited resources even more scarce. This legislation would give these agencies the assistance and guidance they need to be more successful and effective in their recruiting efforts.

It is important that we focus not only on how to get businesses to stay in this country, but also on how we encourage overseas businesses to come here. In both cases, the end result is the same—more jobs for U.S. workers. Our first responsibility needs to be encouraging companies to stay in the United States, but we need to be cognizant of the fact that we will not always be successful. If we have a robust effort to encourage overseas companies to move facilities to our country we will be able to neutralize any unavoidable losses. Many of the pieces are already in place. We already collect much of the data and have an effective matrix of State, regional and local economic development entities. What this legislation does is put these pieces together in a way that accomplishes the primary job at hand—creating jobs in the United States.

I ask for unanimous consent the text of the bill be printed in the RECORD.

There being no objection, the text of the bill was ordered to be printed in the RECORD, as follows:

Mr. LUGAR. Mr. President, I rise today in support of S. 3171, the United States Direct Investment Act of 2006, introduced by Senator BINGAMAN and myself. At a time when commerce routinely crosses national borders, the U.S. should be positioned to compete in all arenas. That means not only strengthening the ability of American business to invest and sell their products in foreign markets, but equally important, attracting foreign companies to the American market. Other nations actively recruit and provide incentives for global companies to set up operations and create new jobs within their borders. We must do the same.

To this end, we propose to establish a framework within the Department of Commerce to specifically study how we can better encourage global companies to invest and set up businesses on our shores. It is essential as well, that we determine where this investment is needed. There are certain communities in the U.S. that are in extreme need of an infusion of economic growth and the opportunity to take part in the global economy. The U.S. has a talented and skilled workforce. We need to lead foreign companies and entrepreneurs to the cities and towns where they can find the resources they require. If this information is readily available, and if we provide incentives for companies to come, we will significantly increase the amount of foreign investment coming into our country.

In 2005, foreign companies accounted for $129 billion worth of investments in the United States. This money translates into jobs and prosperity for Americans. The best way to ensure that this valuable investment is spread more widely throughout the 50 States is by conducting the sort of analysis proposed in this bill. We should keep track of both the quantity of investment attracted to each particular state and region, and as well as the types of investment foreigners make, particularly in the high technology industry. We should conduct an analysis of the industries that are investing in the U.S. compared to the industries that are going to other countries. We also need to assess which policies and programs have had the most success in attracting foreign investment.

It is particularly important to attract research and development and high technology industries. These have a multiplier effect that helps increase the overall competitiveness of the American economy. We should create incentives for high technology companies to develop and invest in a U.S. presence and workforce.

Another key feature of the bill is consultations with local and regional authorities, as well as Congress. The administration should determine the needs of particular localities and what the federal government can do to assist local efforts in attracting foreign investment. Congress should also be consulted so that information can be relayed regarding regions of the country that are suffering from a lack of high wage jobs.

Global business ties are vital tools in shaping our international business and foreign policy. Cooperation on the commercial front enhances our ability to work with nations on other matters, including security and intelligence. This bill offers a positive solution to the concerns over domestic job growth by seeking to ensure that globalization is a two-way street with more investment traffic flowing in our direction.

By Mr. LEAHY:

S. 3175. A bill to amend title 35, United States Code, with respect to establishing procedures for granting authority to the Under Secretary for Commerce for Intellectual Property and Director of the Patent and Trademark Office to grant compulsory patent licenses for exporting patented pharmaceutical products to certain countries consistent with international commitments made by the United States, and for other purposes; to the Committee on the Judiciary.

Mr. LEAHY. Mr. President, I am today introducing a bill which can be the catalyst for saving the lives or improving the health of millions of families in impoverished nations.

In far too many nations, thousands of children die needlessly each month.

The concept of my bill—called the Life-Saving Medicines Export Act of 2006—is easy to summarize.

It allows U.S. companies to make low-cost generic versions of patented medicines for export to impoverished nations that face public health crises but cannot produce those life-saving medicines for themselves.

This bill is based on World Trade Organization agreements permitting nations with pharmaceutical industries to help nations in need.

That WTO agreement was labeled by U.S. Ambassador Portman as “a landmark achievement that we hope will help developing countries devastated by HIV and AIDS and other public health crises.”

Apart from the pressing need for this step in humanitarian terms, passage of this bill could go a long way in improving U.S. relations with large segments of the world’s population.

On December 6, 2005, the Office of the U.S. Trade Representative announced that it “welcomes” efforts to “allow countries to override patent rights when necessary to export life-saving drugs to developing countries that face public health crises but cannot produce drugs for themselves.”

I am concerned, however, that the administration has taken no steps whatsoever to begin to implement that agreement. No implementing legislation has been provided to the Hill. I was informed just today that the administration has “no present plans” to propose legislation to implement that international agreement. I am disappointed with that answer but am pleased that the administration expressed a willingness to work with me on this important effort. I will forward my bill to them later today.

Indeed, the World Health Assembly and the World Health Organization have adopted resolutions urging all WTO member nations with a generic capability to adopt laws that implement that agreement.

The World Bank recently issued a guide and model documents on how best to implement that international agreement. My bill follows their model.

Like a generation ago, infectious and parasitic diseases remain the major killers of children in the developing world. Many of these diseases—measles, malaria, river blindness—we can prevent or cure. But those countries still lack the public health systems and the vital medicines.

Every hour, more than 500 African mothers lose a child, mostly from diseases caused by contaminated water.

In some sub-Saharan countries, HIV infection rates range as high as a third of the adult population, and for this reason 35 percent of African children are at higher risk of death than they were a decade ago.

Despite these grim statistics, there is a brighter side.

We are far more aware today of how much our own health depends on what takes place half a world away. Whether it is AIDS, SARS, West Nile Virus, the Avian Flu, or some as yet unknown infectious disease, we are all at risk, and only an airplane flight away, from wherever the outbreak may occur.

Because of this new awareness, global health is finally recognized as an issue of national security. It may seem obvious today, but even ten years ago it was not.

Health threats that once concerned only medical personnel, now receive the attention of the highest levels of governments. We are supporting policies and programs to help the poorest countries conduct better surveillance and respond more quickly to protect their own people, and to prevent the spread of disease.

There is a great deal more we need to do. Today, 15 percent of the world's people consume 91 percent of the world's pharmaceuticals. The high price of many life-saving medicines—medicines that we take for granted in this country—is beyond reach for billions of the world's most vulnerable populations.

President Franklin Roosevelt said: "The test of our progress is not whether we add more to the abundance of those who have much, it is whether we provide enough for those who have little."

Imagine if you, or a loved one, were dying and you knew the medicine to cure the disease exists and costs only a few dollars, but you have no way to get it or to pay for it. That is a reality for millions of people today.

Reports by UNICEF, UNAIDS, and Doctors without Borders clearly show that the high price of many life-saving medicines is a significant barrier to their availability in many very low income areas of the world. Indeed, the 4th Global Report of UNAIDS notes the extremely low rate of treatment for HIV/AIDS in those areas by pointing out that of the 5 to 6 million urgently in need of antiretroviral medicines, only some 400,000 were receiving them.

With respect to AIDS, a recent book by Philip Hiltz called "Prescription for Survival" notes the importance of offering affordable medicines to populations of impoverished nations:

"It was said that the price of the drugs was killing tens of thousands . . ."

Under my bill, U.S. generic manufacturers would be allowed to make generic versions of patented drugs without the consent of the patent holders.

Those patent holders would receive compensation in the form of a royalty payment under a so-called "compulsory license" and the generic companies would then be required to sell those less-expensive generic drugs only to least-developed or developing nations.

Use of a compulsory license occurs when Congress determines that there is an important need which should be addressed.

For example, most Americans do not realize that their network television programs received by satellite or by cable are provided under a compulsory license. The program owners receive a royalty for their programs under a formula.

This way American families can watch network TV programming over satellite or cable just like it is made available over-the-air. This same compulsory license approach, except with respect to patented medicines, is employed in this bill.

The WTO agreement contains language designed to protect the interests of the patent holders by focusing its benefits on areas of the world where these important medicines would not otherwise be available except for some of the wealthiest residents.

Thus, implementation of the agreement would not take business away from the companies owning the patents, sometimes referred to as the "brand-name" companies, since their medicines are not purchased by low-income families in those impoverished nations.

In addition, the patent holders will receive royalties from the generic companies under the bill. Third, generic versions of products sold under the agreement have to be clearly marked as not for resale to developed nations. This will mean that the bill should not result in undercutting the high-priced sales of those medicines by the brand-name companies in developed nations.

Thus, the bill addresses both the urgent needs of millions of low-income families in impoverished nations while protecting the interests of the patent owners of these life-saving medicines.

There have been significant voluntary efforts made by brand-name pharmaceutical companies, foundations, and non-profits who have donated life-saving medicines and have donated time, personnel and money to help in the fight against deadly diseases in other nations. I commend and greatly appreciate those efforts.

Some funding mechanisms have been started including the Global Fund to Fight AIDS, Tuberculosis and Malaria and President Bush's Millennium Challenge Account. Nonetheless, much remains to be done.

If this bill is enacted it would complement the above efforts and implement the WTO agreements and make low-cost life-saving pharmaceutical products, and other medicines, available to hundreds of thousands of persons without other access to those products.

To provide a little history, I am very pleased that all the member nations of the World Trade Organization, WTO, agreed to this approach to assist people suffering from life-threatening diseases in least-developed or developing nations. Under this international agreement, nations such as the United States with pharmaceutical industries would be allowed to make and sell generic medicines to nations in need even if the patent owners of those medicines refused to authorize such manufacture and sale.

As I said earlier, on December 6, 2005, the United States announced that it "welcomes" the WTO amendment to "allow countries to override patent rights when necessary to export life-saving drugs to developing countries that face public health crises but cannot produce drugs for themselves." The amendment will go in effect, for those nations which adopt it, once 2/3 of the member nations adopt it. The current waiver approach, allowing nations to implement it now, will remain in place until the permanent amendment is adopted. This permits the U.S. to move forward with this effort this year. Indeed, Canada has already passed implementing legislation.

Participation by any nation which wants to export such generic products is voluntary. In order to participate, each country must pass legislation to implement the WTO agreement. The United States needs to act as soon as possible.

This is a moral issue. I am working with a number of religious groups, humanitarian organizations, international assistance groups, and generic drug companies on this effort. I have also received input from some pharmaceutical brand-name companies and hope a few will step forward and be leaders in this effort. I will also reach out across the aisle to try to form a bipartisan coalition.

Two recent World Health Organization annual reports, the World Health Reports for 2003 and 2004, demonstrate the enormous scope of the need for supplying these medicines to needy countries. The "Life-Saving Medicines Export Act of 2006" that I am introducing today would allow the U.S. generic industry to respond to these urgent international needs and could save millions of lives in impoverished nations.

Canada, Norway and the Netherlands have already enacted such legislation or rule changes. However, aspects of the Canadian law have been an impediment to the willingness of generic companies to participate. For example, that law allows Canadian generic companies to provide such medicines for at most only 4 years. The Canadian version permits dilatory and needless litigation, omits important medicines from a complex list of covered drugs, and creates unnecessary bureaucratic hoops.

I have received input from generic companies and my bill addresses all of those concerns. For example, it would provide that a participating generic manufacturer could provide such medicines for up to 14 years which makes it much more likely that U.S. generic companies would make the investments needed to make low-cost medicines for export to impoverished areas.

Under my bill, U.S. generic manufacturers would be allowed to make generic versions of patented drugs without the consent of the patent holders. Those patent holders would receive compensation, a royalty payment, under a so-called "compulsory license" and the generic companies would then be required to sell those less-expensive generic drugs only to least-developed or developing nations.

The WTO agreement contains language designed to protect the interests of the patent holders by focusing its provisions on areas of the world where these important medicines would not otherwise be available except for some of the wealthiest residents. Thus, implementation of the agreement would not take business away from the companies owning the patents, sometimes referred to as the "brand-name patent holders since their medicines are not purchased by low-income families in those impoverished nations. There may be de minimis losses of profits for brand-name patent holders but certainly the humanitarian and self-interest benefits provided by the bill would massively outweigh those concerns.

In addition, the patent holders will receive royalties from the generic companies under the bill. Third, generic versions of products sold under the agreement have to be clearly marked as not for resale to developed nations. This should mean that the bill will not result in undercutting the high-priced sales of the patented medicines in developed nations. Re-exporting of these generic products is prohibited unless it is part of a regional trade alliance among impoverished nations as permitted under the WTO agreements.

Thus, the bill addresses both the urgent needs of millions of low-income families in impoverished nations while protecting the interests of the patent owners of these life-saving medicines and will hopefully help enhance America's image in the world.

For those only interested in self-interest rather than humanitarian aid, note that because of the globalization of travel our Nation is at risk from failure to contain diseases in other nations. America has a strong self-interest in combating diseases in foreign nations. A surprising number of new diseases have emerged in recent years.

Some of these new diseases are variations of existing diseases. The volume of people and cargo going to and from distant nations is astounding. According to "Rx for Survival" by Philip Hiltz, if you count only travel between nations with a heavy burden of disease and those with less disease, more than a million people a week are making the trip.

The more viruses and bacteria mutant inside animals and people, and the more people and goods travel throughout the world, the more residents living in the United States are at risk of being harmed by dangerous diseases.

The National Intelligence Estimate of January 2000, published by the CIA and the National Intelligence Council noted that: "New and emerging infectious diseases will pose a rising global health threat, and will complicate U.S. and global security over the next 20 years. These diseases will endanger U.S. citizens at home and abroad, threaten United States armed forces deployed overseas and exacerbate social and political instability in key countries and regions."

I hope all my colleagues will join me in supporting this effort. Here is my section-by-section summary of the bill.

Section 1: Sets forth the name of the Act as the "Life-Saving Medicines Export Act of 2006."

Section 2: States that the purpose of the Act is to promote public health under World Trade Organization agreements by permitting the export of generic versions of life-saving patented pharmaceutical products and other medicines including diagnostic tools and vaccines needed to prevent or treat potentially life threatening diseases to residents of impoverished countries with insufficient or no manufacturing capacity to make the medicines. The findings set forth determinations by the World Health Organization concerning the millions of low-income persons without regular access to medicines in lesser-developed or developing nations.

Section 3: This section requires the Director of the United States Patent and Trademark Office to issue a compulsory license (permission to make and sell a patented product under this new Act) to permit generic companies to make and export medicines under the terms of WTO international agreements under several conditions.

The recipient country must be a least-developed nation, as defined by the United Nations, or a developing nation without the ability to manufacture the medicine in question.

The recipient country, called an "eligible country" in the bill, must notify the WTO of its interest in participating in this program.

Efforts must have been made by the generic company to buy the right to make and sell the medicine under normal business arrangements with the patent holders.

The medical product exported under this Act must be for life-threatening public health problems and can only be used in least-developed or developing nations, and is not for re-export except in identified circumstances relating to regional trade alliances.

Special labeling and packaging must be used to make clear that the product is sold under the authority of the WTO agreement only for use as allowed under agreement and this bill.

The permission to make and sell the product, the license, can not exceed 7 years, except that the license may be extended once.

The holder of the compulsory license shall pay a royalty to the patent holder, as determined by the Director of the PTO within a limited range of possible rates set forth in the bill, taking into account such factors as humanitarian needs, the economic value to the importing nation, and the need for low-cost pharmaceutical products by persons in the importing nation.

The maximum royalty for any shipment shall not exceed 4 percent times the commercial value of the pharmaceutical products to be exported under this Act under that supply agreement.

An alternative royalty payment approach, modeled after the approach enacted into law by Canada, would also be permitted with the same 4 percent maximum. In addition, the Director may accept combined applications from multiple eligible countries. Note that in emergency situations the Director may waive provisions of the bill in a manner consistent with the WTO agreements.

Section 4: This section makes clear that compulsory licenses issued under this Act shall not be considered an infringement of a patent.

Section 5: This section creates a diverse advisory board of academic, patent, trade, medical, international aid, and industry experts to advise the Director, and to report to the Congress, on ways to improve implementation of the bill to achieve its purposes. Mandatory funding for the board is provided out of the general fund of the U.S. at $1.5 million in fiscal years 2007 and 2008, with modestly declining amounts provided in subsequent years through 2011.

I ask unanimous consent that the text of the bill be printed in the RECORD.

There being no objection, the text of the bill was ordered to be printed in the RECORD, as follows:

S. 3175

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

This Act may be cited as the "Life-Saving Medicines Export Act of 2006".

SEC. 2. PURPOSES AND FINDINGS.

(a) PURPOSE.—The purpose of this Act is to promote public health by permitting the export of life-saving pharmaceutical products and other medicines manufactured in the United States by compulsory license to residents of participating countries with insufficient or no manufacturing capability in the pharmaceutical sector for the product in question consistent with the General Council Decision of the World Trade Organization.

(b) FINDINGS.—Congress finds the following:

(1) The United States Trade Representative recently announced that it “welcomes” the World Trade Organization amendment to “allow countries to override patent rights when necessary to export life-saving drugs to developing countries that face public health crises but cannot produce drugs for themselves.” United States Ambassador Portman called this “a landmark achievement that we hope will help developing countries.”

(2) Compulsory licensing of patents is a “fixture in almost all patent systems” in the world as noted in the Berkeley Technology Law Journal in 2003. By the end of the 1950s, for example, an estimated 40,000 to 50,000 compulsory licenses were issued regarding patents in the United States. (Access to Patented Medicine in Developing Countries, F.M. Scherer, www.cmhealth.org/docswg4; World Health Organization). Indeed, the WHO paper notes that the “United States has led the world in issuing compulsory licenses to restore competition when violations of the antitrust laws have been found, or in the negotiated settlement of antitrust cases before full adjudication has occurred.”

(3) The vast majority of people living in developing countries or least developed nations have limited or no access to many medicines that are saving and extending lives of those in other, more developed nations. Since sales of the patented, brand-name versions of such medicines are minimal or non-existent in many impoverished regions of the world providing generic versions of those medicines under the WTO General Council Decision will have minimal impact on the sales of brand-name, patented versions in such regions.

(4) The World Health Organization has estimated that 1/3 of the world's population lacks regular access to essential medicines, including antiretroviral drugs, and that a number of essential medicines are under patent.

(5) Medicines and vaccines are needed throughout the world to combat newly arising public health threats such as the avian flu. A United States National Intelligence Estimate in January 2000 notes that “New and emerging infectious diseases will pose a rising global health threat...”

(6) Millions of people with HIV/AIDS in developing countries need antiretroviral drugs. More than 40,000,000 people worldwide have HIV and 95 percent of them live in developing countries. Malaria, tuberculosis, and other infectious diseases kill millions of people a year in developing nations.

(7) Comprehensive reports of the World Health Organization of the United Nations, in 2004 and 2005 detail the urgent need for pharmaceutical products in developing countries and in least developed nations.

(8) The World Trade Organization decisions of August 30, 2003, on access to generic medicines is now being considered by member nations of the World Trade Organization for ratification as a permanent amendment to the WTO Agreement on Trade Related Aspects of Intellectual Property Rights.

“(i) a statement that such pharmaceutical product has been manufactured solely for export to the specific eligible country or to nation parties to a regional trade agreement as provided for in paragraphs 6(i) and 6(ii) of the General Council Decision and is not approved for marketing in the United States;

“(ii) a statement indicating that the pharmaceutical product is subject to a compulsory license issued to the generic manufacturer; and

“(iii) any other markings determined appropriate by the Director to distinguish such pharmaceutical product from the patented pharmaceutical product, which may include a different trademark name or distinctive color or shaping, so long as—

“(I) such distinction is feasible and does not have a significant impact on price and will not undermine the humanitarian purposes of the Life-Saving Medicines Export Act of 2006; and “(II) the Director may temporarily waive the requirements of the distinguishing marks under urgent circumstances for limited quantities of such pharmaceutical products.

“(3) The term of such compulsory license shall expire on the date that is the earliest of—

“(A) 7 years after the date of issuance of the license;

“(B) the date the importing country is no longer an eligible country; or

“(C) on a petition from the original patent holder, on the date that the Director, in consultation with the National Advisory Board on Implementation of the General Council Decision established under section 5 of the Life-Saving Medicines Export Act of 2006, determines that the circumstances that have led to the granting of the license cease to exist and it appears probable that such circumstances will not reoccur.

“(4) The licensee shall keep accurate records of all quantities of products manufactured and distributed under its license and shall make such records available upon request to an independent person agreed to by the parties, or otherwise approved by the Director, for the sole purpose of ensuring whether the terms of the license have been met.

“(5) A generic manufacturer issued a license under this section may notify the Director if the estimated quantity of the pharmaceutical product set forth in the application and subsection (c)(2)(B) will be insufficient to meet the projected need during the remainder of the license period. The Director shall adjust the estimated quantity to the quantity proposed by the licensee unless compelling evidence demonstrates that the proposed quantity is excessive.

“(e) COMPENSATION TO PATENT HOLDER.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—The holder of a compulsory license under this section shall pay to the patent holder a royalty in an amount and by a date determined by the Director that shall not be—

“(A) earlier than the date of each shipment for export of the pharmaceutical product under the compulsory license; or

“(2) AMOUNT OF ROYALTY.—In consultation with the Secretary of Health and Human Services, the Director of the National Institutes of Health, the Director of the United States Agency for International Development, and the Director of the Centers of Disease Control, the Director, when determining a royalty amount under paragraph (1), shall consider the following:

“(A) The provisions of paragraph 3 of the General Council Decision and the need for the licensee under this section to make a reasonable return sufficient to sustain a continued participation in humanitarian objectives.

“(B) The humanitarian and noncommercial reasons for issuing a compulsory license under this section.

“(C) The economic value to the importing country of the use that has been authorized by the Director.

“(D) The need for low-cost pharmaceutical products by persons in eligible countries.

“(E) Whether the importing country has a patent applicable to the pharmaceutical product sought to be imported under this section.

“(F) The ordinary levels of profitability in the United States, of commercial agreements involving pharmaceutical products, and any relevant international trends in relevant prices as reported by the United Nations or other appropriate humanitarian organizations or agencies for the supply of such products for humanitarian purposes.

“(3) ROYALTY RATE FORMULAS.—

“(A) IN GENERAL.—

“(i) FACTORS.—Except as provided in subparagraph (B), the amount of the royalty payable to any patentee under this subsection—

“(II) shall not exceed the amount determined by multiplying the commercial value of the pharmaceutical product to be exported under the supply agreement by 4 percent.

“(ii) MULTIPLE PATENTEES.—If more than 1 patentee is due a royalty for a pharmaceutical product under this section, the amount of the royalty payable for the pharmaceutical product shall be divided by the number of patentees.

“(B) ALTERNATIVE ROYALTY RATE FORMULA.—

“(i) IN GENERAL.—

“(I) ESTABLISHMENT AND USE.—Subject to subclause (II), the Director may establish and use an alternative royalty rate formula under this subparagraph instead of the royalty rate formula under subparagraph (A), if—

“(aa) the Director makes a determination that the alternative royalty rate formula is more appropriate or efficient to employ; and “(bb) the alternative royalty rate formula is based on the methodology described under clauses (ii) through (v).

“(II) LIMITATION.—If the royalty amount determined under the alternative royalty rate formula under subclause (I) exceeds the dollar amount determined by multiplying the commercial value of the pharmaceutical product to be exported under the supply agreement by 4 percent the royalty amount shall be set at such dollar amount.

“(ii) HUMAN DEVELOPMENT INDEX COUNTRIES.—If the name of the country to which a pharmaceutical product is to be delivered under this section is on the Human Development Index maintained by the United Nations Development Program, the rate for calculation of the royalty to be paid to any patentee shall be determined by—

“(I) adding 1 to the total number of countries listed on such Index;

“(II) subtracting from the sum determined under subclause (I) the numerical rank on the Index of the country to which the pharmaceutical product is to be exported;

“(III) dividing the difference determined under subclause (II) by the total number of countries listed on the Index; and “(IV) multiplying the quotient determined under subclause (III) by 0.04.

“(iii) SINGLE AND MULTIPLE PATENTEES.—For a country described under clause (ii), the amount of the royalty payable to any patentee shall be determined—

“(I) if there is only 1 patentee, by multiplying the total monetary value of the agreement pertaining to the pharmaceutical product to be exported under this section by the royalty rate determined in accordance with clause (ii); and

“(II) if there is more than 1 patentee, by dividing the amount determined under subclause (I) by the number of patentees.

“(iv) COUNTRIES NOT ON HUMAN DEVELOPMENT INDEX.—If the name of the country to which a pharmaceutical product is to be delivered under this section is not on the Human Development Index maintained by the United Nations Development Program, the Director shall—

“(I) determine if relevant circumstances in that country are reasonably similar to another country on that Human Development Index;

“(II) if determining a similar country under subclause (I), use the procedures under clause (ii) to determine a royalty payment using the numerical rank of that other country; and “(III) if determining a royalty rate under subclause (II), state the reasons for making the determination that the country to which the product is to be exported was reasonably similar to the country on such Index used in the calculation.

“(v) REGIONAL TRADE AGREEMENTS.—If the Director knows during review of an application that the pharmaceutical products are to be delivered under this section to parties to a regional trade agreement where re-exportation is allowed under paragraph 6(i) and (ii) of the General Council Decision, the Director shall—

“(I) determine if relevant circumstances in those countries are reasonably similar to a country on the Human Development Index;

“(II) if determining a similar country under subclause (I), use the procedures under clause (ii) to determine a royalty payment based on the numerical rank of that other country; and “(III) if determining a royalty rate under subclause (III), shall state the reasons for making the determination that the countries to which the products are to be re-exported under paragraph 6(i) and (ii) of such Decision were reasonably similar to the country selected on such Index.

“(4) NOTICE OF SHIPMENTS.—Before each shipment of any product manufactured under this section, the manufacturer shall, within 15 days before such product is exported, provide notice through registered mail specifying the approximate quantity to be exported to—

“(A) the patentee;

“(B) the purchaser of the product; and

“(C) the Director.

“(f) RENEWAL OF COMPULSORY LICENSE.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—A generic manufacturer that is the holder of a compulsory license under this section may submit to the Director an application to renew the compulsory license.

“(A) an assurance that the quantities of the pharmaceutical product authorized to be exported under the renewal compulsory license will not be exported before such original compulsory license ceases to be valid;

“(B) an assurance that the applicant has complied with the terms, conditions, and royalty payment required under this section; and “(C) any other information that the Director may reasonably require.

“(3) TIMING OF RENEWAL.—An application for renewal shall be submitted to the Director not later than 45 days before the expiration date of the compulsory license.

“(4) TERM OF RENEWAL.—The term of a renewed compulsory license shall not exceed the term of the original compulsory license.

“(5) LIMITATION.—A compulsory license may not be renewed more than once.

“(g) EFFECT OF SECTION.—To the extent authorized in Article 31(b) of the TRIPS Agreement, nothing in this section shall be construed as requiring an effort to obtain a voluntary license in the event of—

“(1) a national emergency or other circumstances of extreme urgency in the eligible country; or

“(2) a public noncommercial governmental use.

“(h) EMERGENCIES AND CIRCUMSTANCES OF EXTREME URGENCY.—

“(1) EXPEDITED APPROVAL.—

“(A) IN GENERAL.—The Director may provide approval on an expedited basis for a limited period of time to grant a compulsory license regarding a pharmaceutical product to a generic manufacturer to address a national emergency or other circumstances of extreme urgency under such expedited procedures as the Director determines appropriate.

“(B) PROCEDURES.—Procedures under this paragraph may include—

“(i) waiving any requirement to seek a voluntary license from the patent holder; and “(ii) delaying the determination of compensation until after an approval is made.

“(2) WAIVER.—In carrying out expedited approvals under this subsection, the Director may temporarily waive any provision of this section.

“(i) NOTIFICATION TO WTO.—The Director shall notify the WTO of the issuance, termination, or renewal of a compulsory license under this section and of the name and address of the licensee, the product for which the license has been granted, the quantities for which it has been granted, and the countries to which the product is to be supplied.”.

By Mr. REID (for Mr. ROCKEFELLER):

S. 3176. A bill to protect the privacy of veterans and spouses of veterans affected by the security breach at the Department of Veterans Affairs on May 3, 2006, and for other purposes; to the Committee on Banking, Housing, and Urban Affairs.

(At the request of Mr. REID, the following statement was ordered to be printed in the RECORD.)

• Mr. ROCKEFELLER. Mr. President, every American has the justifiable expectation that the Federal Government will protect their private personal information—information that they are required to provide to a Federal agencies. It is a basic and fundamental responsibility of government to make sure that this sensitive data is handled appropriately, accessed only by authorized personal, and used only for intended purposes.

Earlier this week, the Veterans Administration, VA, announced that computer disks containing as many as 26.5 million veterans' personal information were stolen from an employee who had taken the information home. I, along with many of my colleagues, am outraged at this enormous lapse in security. The Veterans Administration must make sure that veterans are not harmed because of the agency's failure to protect sensitive personal data.

This information includes veterans' social security numbers and dates of birth, the underpinnings of almost all of our financial information. In the wrong hands, this information can be used to steal a person's identity causing substantial harm. All of us have constituents who have been victims of identity theft. When a person's identity is stolen, it can have devastating financial consequences for that person and that family. Even if the financial harm is minimal, it often takes years to clear your name. For our nation's veterans, many of whom are older and disabled, identity theft poses even greater problems.

I understand that the Veterans Administration has launched an internal investigation, but Congress must also conduct a thorough investigation into how this security breach occurred. I want to know why the Veterans Administration waited almost 3 weeks to inform our nation's veterans and Congress of this breach. In my opinion, it is inexcusable that veterans were not notified immediately that their personal information had been stolen and were not given any guidance as to the steps they should take to protect themselves from identity theft. I understand the Veterans Administration Inspector General has cited the agency for poor security policies and procedures. Congress must also begin a comprehensive review of the agency's security protocols and policies and force the agency to adopt stricter security measures to make sure that the personal data our veterans are required to provide the agency is not ever again at risk.

It is for this reason that I am introducing the Veterans' Privacy Protection Act today. Although all Federal agencies need comprehensive data privacy policies, this is a targeted bill to address the security breach at the Veterans Administration on an urgent basis.

Congress has required the Federal Trade Commission to address identity theft and its consequences. The agency has taken an aggressive approach in combating this devastating crime. My bill would require the Federal Trade Commission to develop a hotline explicitly for veterans to provide the information, counseling, and help necessary to allow a veteran to protect himself from the loss of personal data.

At this point, our legislative response must cover all 26.5 million veterans that the Veterans Administration believes may have had their personal information compromised. If further investigations conclusively prove that fewer veterans are at-risk, my bill would target services and support to the affected individuals. To help veterans, my bill would make it easier for them to request a long-term credit alert for their records so credit agencies are aware that their personal information could be being used by others. It is my understanding that a security freeze on an individual's record can have a modest cost, and my bill would have the Veterans Administration cover that cost.

Finally, my bill requires the General Accountability Office to evaluate the Veterans Administration response to this incident and to analyze the agency's security protocols. I believe that an independent investigation could generate a number of recommendations to improve the security of personal information not just in the Veterans Administration but in all Federal agencies.

It is my great hope that a thorough investigation will find the criminals responsible for the theft and determine that they were only after the computer and not the millions of valuable private records of our veterans. If in fact these thieves were after our veterans' data, we will have a major catastrophe on our hands, inexcusably adding more hardship to the lives of those who have so ably served their country.

Mr. President, today the Veterans Administration has failed our Nation's veterans. It is inconceivable to me how any Federal agency could have let this happen. We all have heard the stories during the past year regarding massive breaches of private and confidential data by private entities. The Federal Government acted quickly to respond to these breaches and now it must act just as quickly if not more so to address its own failings. My bill is a critical step in providing the necessary assistance that millions of veterans may require, and I urge my colleagues to act on it with the urgency this situation demands.

I ask unanimous consent that text of the bill be printed in the RECORD.●

There being no objection, the text of the bill was ordered to be printed in the RECORD, as follows:

S. 3176

(c) ELEMENTS.—Under the program required by subsection (a), the Federal Trade Commission shall—

(1) provide to veterans and spouses described in subsection (e) such financial and other counseling as the Commission considers appropriate relating to identity theft and the theft of data as described in that subsection; and

(e) APPLICABILITY.—This section shall apply with respect to—

(1) any veteran, as defined in section 101 of title 38, United States Code, who may be a victim of identity theft as a result of the security breach at the Department of Veterans Affairs on May 3, 2006; and

(a) AUTOMATIC FRAUD ALERTS.—Section 605A(b) of the Fair Credit Reporting Act (15 U.S.C. 1681c-1(b)) is amended by adding at the end the following:

“(3) AUTOMATIC EXTENDED FRAUD ALERTS FOR CERTAIN VETERANS.—

“(A) IN GENERAL.—Upon the direct request of a veteran or spouse described in subparagraph (D), each consumer reporting agency described in section 603(p)(1) that maintains a file on the veteran shall take the actions specified in subparagraphs (A) through (C) of paragraph (1) with respect to the veteran or spouse.

“(B) AUTOMATIC ALERTS.—Notwithstanding the requirements of paragraph (1), a veteran or spouse described in subparagraph (D) is not required to submit any identity theft report, proof of identity, or other documentation with respect to an extended fraud alert required by subparagraph (A).

“(C) VETERANS NOT SUBJECT TO IDENTITY THEFT.—Upon conclusively identifying any veteran as not being at risk of identity theft as a result of the security breach described in subparagraph (A)—

“(i) the Secretary of Veterans Affairs shall immediately notify each consumer reporting agency and the veteran involved that such veteran is no longer subject to identity theft as a result of the security breach described in subparagraph (A); and “(ii) the requirements of subparagraph (A) shall no longer apply with respect to any such veteran as of the date of such notification.

“(D) APPLICABILITY.—This paragraph shall apply to—

“(i) each veteran, as defined in section 101 of title 38, United States Code, who may be a victim of identity theft as a result of the security breach at the Department of Veterans Affairs on May 3, 2006; and

(b) SECURITY FREEZES FOR VETERANS.—The Fair Credit Reporting Act (15 U.S.C. 1681 et seq.) is amended by inserting after section 605B the following:

“SEC. 605C. SECURITY FREEZES FOR CERTAIN VETERANS.

“(a) APPLICABILITY.—This section shall apply with respect to—

“(1) any veteran, as defined in section 101 of title 38, United States Code, who may be a victim of identity theft as a result of the security breach at the Department of Veterans Affairs on May 3, 2006; and

“(2) any spouse (or former spouse) of such veteran who the Secretary of Veterans Affairs has conclusively identified as being at risk of identity theft as a result of that security breach.

“(b) SECURITY FREEZES.—

“(1) EMBLEM.—A veteran or spouse described in subsection (a) may include a security freeze in the file of that veteran or spouse maintained by a consumer reporting agency described in section 603(p)(1), by making a request to the consumer reporting agency in writing, by telephone, or through a secure electronic connection made available by the consumer reporting agency.

“(2) CONSUMER DISCLOSURE.—If a veteran or spouse described in subsection (a) requests a security freeze under this section, the consumer reporting agency shall disclose to that person the process of placing and removing the security freeze and explain to that veteran or spouse the potential consequences of the security freeze. A consumer reporting agency may not imply or inform a veteran or spouse that the placement or presence of a security freeze on the file of that veteran or spouse may negatively affect their credit score.

“(c) EFFECT OF SECURITY FREEZE.—

“(1) RELEASE OF INFORMATION BLOCKED.—If a security freeze is in place in the file of a veteran or spouse described in subsection (a), a consumer reporting agency may not release information from the file of that veteran or spouse for consumer credit purposes to a third party without prior express written authorization from that veteran or spouse.

“(2) INFORMATION PROVIDED TO THIRD PARTIES.—Paragraph (2) does not prevent a consumer reporting agency from advising a third party that a security freeze is in effect with respect to the file of a veteran or spouse described in subsection (a). If a third party, in connection with an application for credit, requests access to a consumer file on which a security freeze is in place under this section, the third party may treat the application as incomplete.

“(3) CREDIT SCORE NOT AFFECTED.—The placement of a security freeze under this section may not be taken into account for any purpose in determining the credit score of the veteran or spouse to whom the security freeze relates.

“(d) REMOVAL; TEMPORARY SUSPENSION.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—Except as provided in paragraph (4), a security freeze under this section shall remain in place until the veteran or spouse to whom it relates requests that the security freeze be removed. A veteran or spouse may remove a security freeze on his or her credit report by making a request to the consumer reporting agency in writing, by telephone, or through a secure electronic connection made available by the consumer reporting agency.

“(2) CONDITIONS.—A consumer reporting agency may remove a security freeze placed in the file of a veteran or spouse under this section only—

“(A) upon request of that veteran or spouse, pursuant to paragraph (1); or “(B) if the agency determines that the file of that veteran or spouse was frozen due to a material misrepresentation of fact by that veteran or spouse.

“(3) NOTIFICATION TO CONSUMER.—If a consumer reporting agency intends to remove a security freeze pursuant to paragraph (2)(B), the consumer reporting agency shall notify the veteran or spouse to whom the security freeze relates in writing prior to removing the freeze.

“(4) TEMPORARY SUSPENSION.—A veteran or spouse described in subsection (a) may have a security freeze under this section temporarily suspended by making a request to the consumer reporting agency in writing or by telephone and specifying beginning and ending dates for the period during which the security freeze is not to apply.

“(e) RESPONSE TIMES; NOTIFICATION OF OTHER ENTITIES.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—A consumer reporting agency shall—

“(A) place a security freeze in the file of a veteran or spouse under subsection (b) not later than 5 business days after receiving a request from the veteran or spouse under subsection (b)(1); and

“(2) NOTIFICATION OF OTHER AGENCIES.—A consumer reporting agency shall notify all other consumer reporting agencies described in section 603(p)(1) of a request under this section not later than 3 days after placing, removing, or temporarily suspending a security freeze in the file of the veteran or spouse under subsection (b), (d)(2)(A), or (d)(4).

“(3) IMPLEMENTATION BY OTHER AGENCIES.—A consumer reporting agency that is notified of a request under paragraph (2) to place, remove, or temporarily suspend a security

“(A) request proper identification from the veteran or spouse, in accordance with subsection (g), not later than 3 business days after receiving the notification; and

“(B) place, remove, or temporarily suspend the security freeze on that credit report not later than 3 business days after receiving proper identification.

“(f) CONFIRMATION.—Except as provided in subsection (c)(3), whenever a consumer reporting agency places, removes, or temporarily suspends a security freeze at the request of a veteran or spouse under subsection (b) or (d), respectively, it shall send a written confirmation thereof to the veteran or spouse not later than 10 business days after placing, removing, or temporarily suspending the security freeze. This subsection does not apply to the placement, removal, or temporary suspension of a security freeze by a consumer reporting agency because of a notification received under subsection (e)(2).

“(g) ID REQUIRED.—A consumer reporting agency may not place, remove, or temporarily suspend a security freeze in the file of a veteran or spouse described in subsection (a) at the request of the veteran or spouse, unless the veteran or spouse provides proper identification (within the meaning of section 610(a)(1)) and the regulations thereunder.

“(h) EXCEPTIONS.—This section does not apply to the use of the file of a veteran or spouse described in subsection (a) maintained by a consumer reporting agency by any of the following:

“(1) A person or entity, or a subsidiary, affiliate, or agent of that person or entity, or an assignee of a financial obligation owing by the veteran or spouse to that person or entity, or a prospective assignee of a financial obligation owing by the veteran or spouse to that person or entity in conjunction with the proposed purchase of the financial obligation, with which the veteran or spouse has or had prior to assignment an account or contract, including a demand deposit account, or to whom the veteran or spouse issued a negotiable instrument, for the purposes of reviewing the account or collecting the financial obligation owing for the account, contract, or negotiable instrument.

“(6) The use of consumer credit information for the purposes of prescreening, as provided for under this title.

“(7) Any person or entity administering a credit file monitoring subscription to which the veteran or spouse has subscribed.

“(8) Any person or entity for the purpose of providing a veteran or spouse with a copy of his or her credit report or credit score upon request of the veteran or spouse.

“(i) FEES.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—Except as provided in paragraph (2), a consumer reporting agency may charge a reasonable fee, for placing, removing, or temporarily suspending a security freeze in the file of the veteran or spouse described in subsection (a), which cost shall be submitted to and paid by the Department of Veterans Affairs, pursuant to procedures established by the Secretary of Veterans Affairs.

“(2) ID THEFT VICTIMS.—A consumer reporting agency may not charge a fee for placing, removing, or temporarily suspending a security freeze in the file of a veteran or spouse described in subsection (a), if—

“(A) the veteran or spouse is a victim of identity theft;

“(B) the veteran or spouse requests the security freeze in writing;

“(C) the veteran or spouse has filed a police report with respect to the theft, or an identity theft report (as defined in section 603(q)(4), within 90 days after the date on which the theft occurred or was discovered by the veteran or spouse; and

“(j) LIMITATION ON INFORMATION CHANGES IN FROZEN REPORTS.—

“(1) IN GENERAL.—If a security freeze is in place in the file of a veteran or spouse described in subsection (a), the consumer reporting agency may not change any of the following official information in that file without sending a written confirmation of the change to the veteran or spouse within 30 days after the date on which the change is made:

“(A) Name.

“(B) Date of birth.

“(C) Social Security number.

“(D) Address.

“(2) CONFIRMATION.—Paragraph (1) does not require written confirmation for technical modifications of the official information of a veteran or spouse, including name and street abbreviations, complete spellings, or transposition of numbers or letters. In the case of an address change, the written confirmation shall be sent to both the new address and to the former address of the veteran or spouse.

“(k) CERTAIN ENTITY EXEMPTIONS.—

“(1) AGGREGATORS AND OTHER AGENCIES.—The provisions of this section do not apply to a consumer reporting agency that acts only as a reseller of credit information by assembling and merging information contained in the data base of another consumer reporting agency or multiple consumer reporting agencies, and does not maintain a permanent data base of credit information from which new consumer credit reports are produced.

“(2) OTHER EXEMPTED ENTITIES.—The following entities are not required to place a security freeze in the file of a veteran or spouse described in subsection (a) in accordance with this section:

“(A) A check services or fraud prevention services company, which issues reports on incidents of fraud or authorizations for the purpose of approving or processing negotiable instruments, electronic fund transfers, or similar methods of payments.

“(B) A deposit account information service company, which issues reports regarding account closures due to fraud, substantial overdrafts, ATM abuse, or similar negative information regarding such veteran or spouse, to inquiring banks or other financial institutions for use only in reviewing the request of such veteran or spouse for a deposit account at the inquiring bank or financial institution.”.

By Mr. BUNNING:

S 3177. A bill to suspend temporarily the duty on certain compounds of lanthanum phosphates; to the Committee on Finance.

Mr. BUNNING. Mr. President, I rise today to introduce a number of bills to provide for relief from duties. It is my intention that some or all of these duty suspension bills will eventually be included in the Miscellaneous Tariff Bill, MTB, that the Senate Finance Committee is expected to consider this year.

As the members of the Senate are aware, Congress on occasion passes a bill, known as the Miscellaneous Tariff Bill or MTB, as a vehicle for enacting pending non-controversial duty suspensions. The rules for the inclusion of a duty suspension in the MTB are straight forward. First and foremost, in order to be included in the MTB, a bill must be non-controversial. A bill will be controversial if it is objected to by a domestic producer of the product for which the duty reduction is being sought. Secondly, the cost for each bill must amount to less than $500,000 of lost revenue per year.

As my colleagues are aware, the MTB provides an opportunity to temporarily eliminate or reduce duties on narrowly defined products that are imported into the United States because there is not available domestic source for the products. These duty suspensions reduce input costs for U.S. businesses and thus ultimately increase the competitiveness of their products.

I have been approached by a number of manufacturers in Kentucky that use imported inputs while making their products. These manufacturers have represented to me that, to their knowledge, there currently exists no American-made source for these inputs.

In an effort to assist these Kentucky manufacturers, I am introducing these duty suspension bills so that the items they address will be able to be considered for inclusion in the MTB prepared by the Senate Finance Committee.

My intention in introducing these bills is to begin the process of public comment and technical analysis by the International Trade Commission (ITC) on the items addressed by the bills. During this review, the ITC will determine which of these bills are necessary and meet the selection criteria. My support for a duty suspension for the items is contingent on a determination by the ITC analysts that the items in question are proper candidates for inclusion in the non-controversial MTB.

I look forward to working with Chairman GRASSLEY, Ranking Member BAUCUS and my colleagues on the Senate Finance Committee as the process for assembling a final MTB package continues.

By Mr. REED (for himself and Mr. CHAFEE):

S. 3187. A bill to designate the Post Office located at 5755 Post Road, East Greenwich, Rhode Island, as the "Richard L. Cevoli Post Office"; to the Committee on Homeland Security and Governmental Affairs.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, today I pay tribute to one of Rhode Island's most highly decorated soldiers, Commander Richard L. Cevoli of East Greenwich.

Commander Cevoli served our nation bravely in both World War II and the Korean War. In honor of his sacrifices and service to his nation, I am introducing a bill, along with Senator CHAFEE, to name the post office located at 5775 Post Road in East Greenwich, RI, the "Richard L. Cevoli Post Office."

Commander Cevoli was born in East Greenwich, Rhode Island, on October 24, 1919, and died in a tragic plane crash in Florida on January 18, 1955. He went to Rhode Island State College, which is now the University of Rhode Island, and earned a degree in civil engineering. In 1941, after graduation, he moved to New York and began working for the engineering firm of Merritt, Chapman & Scott.

The month after the bombing of Pearl Harbor, Richard Cevoli returned to Rhode Island and entered the Navy.

He was sent to flight training in Dallas, Sanford, and Pensacola before being assigned to Squadron VF-18, based on the USS Intrepid in the Pacific.

It was during his service with the VF-18 that Commander Cevoli was awarded the second-highest medal awarded in the Navy—the Navy Cross. This honor was given to Commander Cevoli during the Battle of Leyte Gulf off the Philippines coast in October of 1944. Along with other fighters, Commander Cevoli strafed the largest Japanese ship, silencing many of its guns. The following day, he severely damaged a Japanese aircraft carrier with a 500-pound bomb. On a subsequent attack on the Japanese forces, as is recorded in his medal citation, "Cevoli disregarded the terrific antiaircraft opposition and scored a near miss on a Kongo class battleship with a 500-pound bomb. Then, pulling out he made a second run to strafe a destroyer, silencing its antiaircraft weapons and thereby contributing to our successful bombing and torpedo attacks which followed. His outstanding courage and determination were in keeping with the highest traditions of the United States Naval Service."

Following his service during the war, he returned to Rhode Island and continued his Navy career at Naval Air Station, Quonset Point. However, the peace was short-lived. North Korea invaded South Korea, and another major conflict quickly began.

From 1949 until 1951, Commander Cevoli served as the Executive Officer in Squadron VF-18 on board the USS Leyte, seeing action in Korea. In addition to the Navy Cross, Commander Cevoli earned two Distinguished Flying Crosses and eight Air Medals during his active flying career.

Once the conflict in Korea had ended, Commander Cevoli was able to spend more time at home. He took classes at the Naval War College in Newport and in July, 1954 he was placed in command of Squadron VF-73. Tragically, he died serving his country when his plane crashed during a training mission.

Commander Cevoli left behind a wife, Grace, and three children, Steven, Carol, and Elizabeth. A life-long resident of East Greenwich, Commander Cevoli's legacy is memorialized in the Rhode Island Aviation Hall of Fame.

This legislation will pay tribute to this hero of Rhode Island and the United States, and I ask my colleagues to join me in honoring Commander Cevoli by supporting this bill.

Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the text of this legislation be printed in the RECORD.

There being no objection, the text of the bill was ordered to be printed in the RECORD, as follows:

(a) DESIGNATION.—The post office located at 5755 Post Road, East Greenwich, Rhode Island, shall be known and designated as the "Richard L. Cevoli Post Office".

By Mrs. FEINSTEIN:

S. 3188. A bill to amend the Forest Service use and occupancy permit program to restore the authority of the Secretary of Agriculture to utilize the special use permit fees collected by the Secretary in connection with the establishment and operation of marinas in units of the National Forest System derived from the public domain, and for other purposes; to the Committee on Energy and Natural Resources.

Mrs. FEINSTEIN. Mr. President, I rise to introduce legislation that will restore authority to the Forest Service to retain marina permit revenue for local expenditure.

Within some National Forests, the Forest Service has partnered with local small business owners, allowing them to operate houseboat marinas. In exchange, the Forest Service collects occupancy fees from these marina operators. A portion of these fees had, until recently, been kept in the Forest for local recreation and safety enhancement projects. My legislation allows the Forest Service to once again use these fees in the Forest where they were generated, and where their impact will be most direct.

Several units of the National Forest system will benefit from this legislation, but the unit most affected is the Shasta-Trinity National Forest in California. Under the 1996 Recreation Fee Demonstration Program, the Shasta-Trinity Forest developed a recreation enhancement program at Shasta and Trinity Lakes. Forest Service officials used a portion of the revenue from this program for projects like dock repair, improved handicapped access, safety markers for boaters, law enforcement, and campground construction. Over $4 million was invested in the Forest through this program.

However, the program was inadvertently repealed when the Federal Lands Recreation Enhancement Act was passed. My legislation will correct this oversight by amending the Forest Service's Special Use Permit program, returning this recreation and safety project authority to the agency.

Recreation on Federal lands is important to quality of life in my state and throughout the nation. In many rural areas, it also provides a boost to the economy. I urge my colleagues to support this legislation. It is a simple bill correcting an oversight in the Federal Lands Recreation Enhancement Act. Nonetheless, it has important implications both for recreation enhancement and for the local economies around the affected National Forests.

I ask unanimous consent that the text of the bill be printed in the RECORD.

There being no objection, the text of the bill was ordered to be printed in the RECORD, as follows:

S. 3188

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

SECTION 1. RETENTION AND USE OF FOREST SERVICE MARINA PERMIT FEES FROM NATIONAL FOREST SYSTEM UNITS DERIVED FROM THE PUBLIC DOMAIN.

The last paragraph under the heading "FOREST SERVICE" in the Act of March 4, 1915 (16 U.S.C. 497), is amended—

(1) by striking "The Secretary of Agriculture" and inserting the following:

"(A) PERMITS FOR USE AND OCCUPANCY OF NATIONAL FOREST SYSTEM LANDS.—The Secretary of Agriculture";

(2) by striking "The authority" and inserting the following:

"(B) LIMITATION ON USE OF PERMITS.—The authority"; and

(3) by adding at the end the following:

"(C) SPECIAL RULES REGARDING MARINA PERMITS.—Amounts collected in connection with the issuance of a special use permit under this paragraph for a marina at a unit of the National Forest System derived from the public domain shall be deposited in an existing special account in the Treasury established for the Secretary of Agriculture for recreation management purposes. Amounts so deposited shall be available to the Secretary of Agriculture, until expended and without further appropriation, for repair, maintenance, and facility enhancement related directly to visitor enjoyment, visitor access, and health and safety, for interpretation, visitor information, visitor service, visitor needs assessments, and signs, for habitat restoration directly related to wildlife-dependent recreation that is limited to hunting, fishing, wildlife observation, or photography, for law enforcement related to public use and recreation, and for direct operating or capital costs associated with the issuance of such special use permits, including any fee management agreement or reservation service used in the issuance of such permits. The Secretary may not use such amounts for biological monitoring for listed or candidate species under the Endangered Species Act of 1973 (16 U.S.C. 1531 et seq.). Not less than 80 percent of the permit fees collected at a specific unit of the National Forest System shall be expended for that unit, but the Secretary may transfer up to 20 percent of such fees to appropriations available to enhance recreation opportunities at other units of the National Forest System."

By Mrs. FEINSTEIN:

S. 3189. A bill to allow for renegotiating of the payment schedule of contracts between the Secretary of the Interior and the Redwood Valley Country Water District, and for other purposes; to the Committee on Energy and Natural Resources.

Mrs. FEINSTEIN. Mr. President, I rise today to introduce the Redwood Valley County Water District Loan Renegotiation Act of 2006.

This legislation seeks to implement prior congressional action taken in 1988 to require the Secretary of the Interior to renegotiate debts owed by the Redwood Valley County Water District to the United States. It is an absolutely essential step if the Redwood County is to obtain a firm and reliable water supply.

In 1983, the Redwood Valley County Water District completed a project to supply water to a rural agricultural community near Ukiah, in Northern California. Two Bureau of Reclamation loans totaling $7.3 million partially financed this project.

Unfortunately, the District was unable to repay these loans. This occurred for several reasons: The initial use projections developed by the District and reviewed by the Bureau were seriously flawed; the District's ability to raise funds was restricted when a moratorium on new hook-ups was imposed; and concerns for endangered species reduced the District's water allotment by 15 percent.

As a result of this situation, in 1998 Congress passed Section 15 of Public Law 100-516 that indefinitely suspended the District's obligations to repay these Bureau loans and ordered the Secretary of Interior to renegotiate the terms of the loans. This loan renegotiation has never taken place and now the District finds its water supply highly uncertain. The Bureau of Reclamation acknowledged in a 2000 report that the District needs a reliable water supply in order to solve its current financial dilemma.

The District has recently identified two potential new projects, either of which could supply a firm and reliable source. No government funds will be sought for these projects, and the District will rely on private financing, a strategy that the Bureau is encouraging. However, before the District can secure private financing for new projects, it must renegotiate the existing loans to provide for their repayment subsequent to repayment of the new loans.

This legislation requires the District to repay the United States the currently suspended loans once the new loans have been repaid. The new water project will provide enough revenue to allow the District to repay both its private loan and the United States government. By providing a workable and reasonable solution to a longstanding problem, the legislation creates a win-win solution for the Bureau of Reclamation and the Redwood Valley County Water District.

I urge my colleagues to support this bill. I ask unanimous consent that the text of the bill be printed in the RECORD.

There being no objection, the text of the bill was ordered to be printed in the RECORD, as follows:

S. 3189

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

SECTION 1. RENEGOTIATION OF PAYMENT SCHEDULE.

Section 15 of Public Law 100-516 (102 Stat. 2573) is amended as follows:

(1) By amending paragraph (2) of subsection (a) to read as follows:

"(2) If, as of January 1, 2006, the Secretary of the Interior and the Redwood Valley County Water District have not renegotiated the schedule of payment, the District may enter into such additional non-Federal obligations as are necessary to finance procurement of dedicated water rights and improvements necessary to store and convey those rights to provide for the District's water needs. The renegotiated schedule of payments shall commence when which additional obligations have been financially satisfied by the District. The date of the initial payment owed by the District to the United States shall be regarded as the start of the District's repayment period and the time upon which any interest shall first be computed and assessed under section 5 of the Small Reclamation Projects Act of 1956 (43 U.S.C. 422a et seq.)."

(2) By striking subsection (c).

By Mr. DAYTON (for himself and Mr. LOTT):

S. 3239. A bill to require full disclosure of insurance coverage and noncoverage by insurance companies and provide for Federal Trade Commission enforcement; to the Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation.

Mr. DAYTON. Mr. President, this legislation I am proud to cosponsor, along with my distinguished colleague from Mississippi, is called the Uniform Insurance Noncoverage Disclosure Act. I call it "honesty is the best insurance policy act." It says very simply that all insurance policies—medical, homeowners, whatever they are—must state clearly on the cover page what the policy does not cover.

My colleague from Mississippi can speak eloquently and powerfully about his experiences in his State post-Katrina, but even before that disaster occurred, I have seen similar situations in Minnesota of good people whose lives were devastated by illnesses or natural disasters and then were further devastated by discovering that their losses or expenses were not covered by their insurance policies. For years, they had faithfully paid their premiums believing they had comprehensive coverage, only to find out too late that was untrue.

Insurance companies write the policies, they interpret the policies, they decide what they will and will not cover, and then they handle the appeals and make the final decisions. If they deny the claims, they pocket those dollars in profits. If they honor the claims, they pay them out in losses. Talk about a stacked deck in their favor and against the consumer.

I have had aggrieved constituents show me their homeowners policies. I am an intelligent, well-educated man, but it is impossible to decipher them. They contain cross-references to paragraph numbers in other policies that are not part of the agreement. They cannot be understood, and they are not meant to be understood.

One Minnesota homeowner lost almost everything to a flood. Too late he discovered that his blanket homeowners insurance did not cover losses from a flood. He was protected, according to the policy, if an airplane crashed into his house or if civil insurrection—meaning a revolution—caused damage to his home, but not flooding. What are the chances of those different events possibly occurring?

Another Minnesota family whose father had worked for a company for over 20 years learned that their infant son had been born deaf and needed a Cochlear implant. Two of the insurance companies that carried those policies for the company covered that operation; the other did not, claiming that it was experimental. The family made the unwitting mistake of selecting the wrong policy. No one told them that policy would not pay for Cochlear implant surgery in its comprehensive family coverage, and they, obviously, did not know or could not have known that their unborn son would need this surgery some several years later.

Fortunately, this story has a happy ending. The president of the company, Honeywell, Inc., learning of this injustice, overrode the policy and decreed that Honeywell, the company, would pay for that missing coverage, and that child is now listening to human voices he never would have had the opportunity to otherwise.

But not everyone is in that situation. Not everyone is that fortunate.

So this legislation, again, no costs to it, no bureaucracy, nothing. It simply says that the policy must state clearly, in plain English, understandable on the cover page, what it will not cover. If it is comprehensive, if it is complete, then nothing needs to be said. If it is not, if they experience situations that will not be covered, then it needs to tell the consumer up front on that front page what they will be.

Mr. President, I yield to my distinguished colleague from Mississippi.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Mississippi is recognized.

Mr. LOTT. I thank again my colleagues on the Judiciary Committee and Senator CRAIG for allowing us to go ahead and introduce this legislation and make brief statements. It is very generous, and we thank him for it.

I am delighted to join my colleague, Senator DAYTON, tonight in cosponsoring this legislation. He was kind enough to invite me to do so and even said: Why don't you be the lead sponsor? And I said no, but I will be glad to cosponsor it.

I think this is an important statement here tonight. Honesty is the best insurance policy. It has a good ring to it. It is not going to revolutionize the world, but it could make a real difference. This is a time when once again, in many parts of the country and particularly in my home area, we are very sensitive to the threat of disasters because in only 8 days, on June 1, the next hurricane season will begin, and the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration predicts four to six major hurricanes in the upcoming season. So once again people are struggling with situations of having lost their homes or having their homes badly damaged and being told: No, your insurance policy didn't cover your damage. You didn't have flood insurance because, well, you weren't in a flood plain, and oh, by the way, your house was washed away. It wasn't blown away even though we had winds of 140 miles per hour with gusts of 160 or 170 miles an hour, so therefore you didn't have any wind damage. I must say it has been a disappointing shock to me, the insensitivity and the decisions of certain insurance companies and the positions they have taken. Sometimes they will say: Well, wait a minute, we told you in the policy we don't cover this, we don't cover that.

I represent a blue-collar community. Most people work in the paper mills and the shipyards and are fishermen in my area. They have high school educations, but they are not lawyers. They get a house insurance policy and they think: I am covered. Now, go back and take a look at your insurance policies. If you really take a look at it, you will find that this is not covered, that is not covered, this is not covered, and the next thing you know, you haven't got much coverage, but your premium still goes forward. The standard policies, for instance, don't cover earthquakes and floods, and depending on where you live, hurricanes may not even be covered. That is going to be determined in legal actions. Sometimes they say: Well, unless the policy specifically says the hurricane was covered, then it is not covered. Well, that is an ingenious argument, too.

So we have found that there are lots of problems here, and it breaks my heart, what I have seen happen to thousands of my constituents and people in the neighboring States of Louisiana, Texas, and Alabama. They are being told: No, you didn't read the small print in your policy, you are not covered, or because it didn't say you were covered, then you are not covered. That is why I have joined in sponsoring this bill. Surely we should have honesty in everything, including insurance coverage. At least we should find a way to help the people understand.

So this is what this bill does. It is not all that complicated. It would require that insurance companies include a noncoverage disclosure box—a noncoverage disclosure box—restating in the body of the policy, in font twice the current size of the text, all conditions, exclusions, and other limitations of coverage under that policy. In other words, make it clear. Don't hide it in legalese and gobbledegook. Make it title size, make it bold, where people can go and see what they are not getting.

Some people say: Wait a minute, this may be damaging to the companies. No, I think it will help the companies. It will increase consumer confidence. It will avoid disagreements or conflicts about what is covered. You will have a clarification here, and if you have questions, then at least you can clear them up. It would be in their interests.

One other criticism, and that is, what is it going to cost the Federal Government? Answer: Nothing. And very little to the companies. They have these exclusions woven in there, but they are quite often way down in the body of some long policy, incomprehensible to the minds of normal and sane men and women.

So I think this is something which would be good. Frankly, I agree with the Consumer Federation of America. This small requirement could have saved many people pain and suffering and hundreds of millions of dollars, maybe even billions, after Katrina. So I think it is a good idea, and it is one I am glad to cosponsor. I hope that as we continue to look at what we do in the aftermath of recent disasters and how we do a better job compared to future disasters, this can be worked into the body of legislation. So I am delighted to join as a cosponsor. I thank Senator DAYTON, and I thank Senator LEAHY and Senator CORNYN for allowing us to do this.

SUBMITTED RESOLUTIONS

SENATE RESOLUTION 494—EXPRESSING THE SENSE OF THE SENATE REGARDING THE CREATION OF REFUGEE POPULATIONS IN THE MIDDLE EAST, NORTH AFRICA, AND THE PERSIAN GULF REGION AS A RESULT OF HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS

Mr. SANTORUM (for himself, Mr. LAUTENBERG, Mr. COLEMAN, and Mr. DURBIN) submitted the following resolution; which was referred to the Committee on Foreign Relations:

S. RES. 494

Whereas armed conflicts in the Middle East have created refugee populations numbering in the hundreds of thousands and comprised of peoples from many ethnic, religious, and national backgrounds;

Whereas Jews and other ethnic groups have lived mostly as minorities in the Middle East, North Africa, and the Persian Gulf region for more than 2,500 years, more than 1,000 years before the advent of Islam;

Whereas the United States has long voiced its concern about the mistreatment of minorities and the violation of human rights in the Middle East and elsewhere;

Whereas the United States continues to play a pivotal role in seeking an end to conflict in the Middle East and continues to promote a peace that will benefit all the peoples of the region;

Whereas a comprehensive peace in the region will require the resolution of all outstanding issues through bilateral and multilateral negotiations involving all concerned parties;

Whereas the United States has demonstrated interest and concern about the mistreatment, violation of rights, forced expulsion, and expropriation of assets of minority populations in general, and in particular, former Jewish refugees displaced from Arab countries, as evidenced, inter alia, by—

(1) a Memorandum of Understanding signed by President Jimmy Carter and Israeli Foreign Minister Moshe Dayan on October 4, 1977, which states that “[a] solution of the problem of Arab refugees and Jewish refugees will be discussed in accordance with rules which should be agreed”;
